BIOGRAPHY

Yaakov Horowitz founded the Small Wonder Puppet Theatre™ in 1976 together with his wife Aliza. He used his background in education and skills in acting, music and storytelling to create compelling scripts teaching Jewish values. Within five years he was bringing his puppets across the U.S. and Canada with an interactive show that had children on their feet dancing, singing and clamoring for more. Recognized as an innovative traveling puppet theatre bearing universal messages, Yaakov was featured as the headline performer for the Jewish Children's Expo at the Jacob Javits Convention Center in New York City from 1986-1991. Beginning in 2004, Yaakov took his expertise in puppetry to special needs schools and centers with great success. Small Wonder Puppet Theatre is a 501(3)(c) organization.

REFERENCES/TESTIMONIALS

"...most educational and enjoyable, with true Torah values, bringing to life what they learned in class. The children recall and make mention of the many things they saw even to this day".

Principal, MIRROR YESHIVA K'TANA, Brooklyn, NY

"It is vital that our children experience creativity and vitality in education. It is a performance such as yours that helps immeasurably to reinforce that which we teach them. Keep up your good work."

Principal, THE LAKESHORE HEBREW DAY SCHOOL - Metairie, Louisiana

"Thank you for your amazing performance. Because of your show, 40 special children had the fortune of having one day being brighter and happier. The glow on the children's faces that day said it all."
